CONTENTS

Preface: The assessment and rehabilitation of vegetative and minimally conscious patients
Martin R. Coleman
Pages: 161–162

Part I: Definitions, diagnosis, prevalence and ethics

1. Definitions and current diagnostic guidelines

Diagnostic and prognostic guidelines for the vegetative and minimally conscious states
Joseph T. Giacino and Kathleen Kalmar
Pages: 166–174

The vegetative state and the Royal College of Physicians guidance
David Bates
Pages: 175–183

Incidencer and prevalence of the vegetative and minimally conscious states
J. Graham Beaumont and Pamela M. Kenealy
Pages: 184–189

Recovery of consciousness and life expectancy of children in a vegetative state
Stephen Ashwal
Pages: 190–197

Part II: Functional imaging, electrophysiology and mechanical intervention

2. Neuropathology

Neuropathology of the vegetative state after head injury
Pages: 198–213

3. Neurological assessment

The neurological assessment of patients in vegetative and minimally conscious states
Roger A. Barker
Pages: 214–223

Hydrocephalus, ventriculomegaly and the vegetative state: A review
John D. Pickard, Martin R. Coleman, and Marek Czosnyka
Pages: 224–236

4. Legal issues

Permanent vegetative state: The legal position
Sheila A. M. McLean
Pages: 237–250

Forensic assessment issues in low level neurological states
Nathan D. Zasler
Pages: 251–256

5. Ethical issues

Ethics and the vegetative state
Chris Borthwick
Pages: 257–263

The vegetative state: Promoting greater clarity and improved treatment
Cindy Province
Pages: 264–271

Part III: Functional imaging, electrophysiology and mechanical intervention

Foreword
John D. Pickard
Pages: 272–275

1. Functional and structural imaging

Functional imaging of vegetative state applying single photon emission tomography and positron emission tomography
Bettina Beuthien-Baumann, Vjera A. Holthoff, and Jobst Rudolf
Pages: 276–282

Cerebral processing of auditory and noxious stimuli in severely brain injured patients: Differences between VS and MCS
Melanie Boly, Marie-Elisabeth Faymonville,Philippe Peigneux, Bernard Lambermont, François Damas, André Luxen, Maurice Lamy, Gustave Moonen, Pierre Maquet, and Steven Laureys
Pages: 283–289

(Continued on inside back cover)